You’re invited to attend the 2007 National Civics & Citizenship Education Forum

School Education: Civics and Citizenship for the Future

National Museum of Australia, Canberra, ACT

The Australian Curriculum Studies Association (ACSA) has been commissioned by the Department of Education, Science and Training (DEST) to organise the 2007 National Civics and Citizenship Forum to be held in Canberra on Monday 28 & Tuesday 29 May 2007 at the National Museum of Australia.

The forum titled School Education: Civics and Citizenship for the Future will:

• explore civics and citizenship resources
• consider relationship between the National Assessment and the Statements of Learning; and
• provide exemplars of good practice in civics and citizenship education.

The forum will bring together keynote speakers, panellists, stakeholders, teachers, principals and students. Workshops and presentations will provide the impetus for discussion about current and future directions in civics education in Australia.

There are positions available for people interested in Civics & Citizenship to attend.

Meeting costs for the two days of the Forum are $150.00. Participants organise and pay for their own travel and accommodation. If you would like to attend please phone or email ACSA to register you interest and you will be forwarded further information and a registration form.
